Office Based Anesthesia; Making Things Easier, Safer, and More Effective

•A framework for decision making in office based anesthesia will be presented that provides a basis for customizing medications and modalities to meet the needs of patients. Open airway, operator anesthesia is a primary modality for OMFS, but how can we make life easier for office teams in an age of increasing medical, and surgical complexity. Open airway anesthesia can be improved through CPAP, that can be easily adopted.

•Dr. Siegelman will discuss special topics in pediatric anesthesia, such as induction and recovery techniques as well as neuro-apoptosis.

•Management of office anesthetic emergencies with a team approach is foundational. Let's review safe practice and preparedness.

•In light of the opinion epidemic facing our country, information on responsible prescribing practices, opiate alternatives, risks and signs of opiate abuse, and addiction, will be woven through the presentation.
