Urgencies to Emergencies:

Cases from the field

Opioids: Current issues

We will look at Urgencies and Emergencies that have occurred as well as how to prepare for them. In addition to traditional emergency preparation, we will discuss some unpredictable events and how they were managed. We will take a retrospective look at some poor outcomes and the complaints generated by them to help us think outside the box. We will also discuss the extent of the ongoing opioid crisis and changes from national standards to state regulations.
